Need a little help with flyaways, frizz, or unkempt hair? No need to worry. Sign up for blowdry bootcamp and you'll be glossy and frizz-free in no time. Italian salon and spa Fuga Centro is holding a class to teach us all how to achieve those perfect blow out effects at home.

On September 11 from 10am-12pm, the Millennium Park salon will have its most talented experts hard at work, teaching attendees the art of achieving three different looks -- straight, curly and beach waves. The class is $85 and includes a lesson from the pros, your own blowout from a stylist and a full-size shampoo and conditioner that is hand-picked for your specific hair type.

Snack on apps, sip drinks and shop for hairdryers, flatirons and other tools that will be offered to attendees at a discounted price.

Now, if you only had a red carpet event to attend with your flawless locks ...
